EDUCATION

University of York | BA Politics, Philosophy and Economics | September 2025 - June 2028

First-year average: 72%. Modules include Microeconomics, Political Economy and Quantitative Methods.

PROJECTS

Renewable Components Research Note | Student Investment Project | March - June 2026

Wrote a 6-page research note on a fictional equipment supplier using a university case pack.

Compared revenue growth, operating margin and net debt across 4 case peers.

Built base and downside scenarios; concluded that the case valuation required a margin recovery that was not yet established.

Presented the thesis to 8 society members and revised the risk section after questions about customer concentration. No real-money investment was made.
